The Deep and Comprehensive Free Trade Agreement (DCFTA) between the EU and Ukraine enters into force on the 1.1.2016. Under that agreement Ukraine will benefit from a duty free quota of 5.000 tons which will be subject to a linear increase over five to 6.000 tons in 2021.

This quota is managed on first come first serve basis. Imports of honey from Ukraine outside the quota is subject to an import duty of 17,3%.

Ukraine has since April 2014 benefitted from autonomous trade measures and these will expire by the end of 2015. The autonomous trade measures are the same trade concessions as provided under the DCFTA.
