Point 6 – State of play of Vespa velutina (Asian hornet)

Vespa velutina (Asian hornet)

- Listed as invasive alien species of Union concern under Regulation 1143/2014 on the prevention and management of the introduction and spread of invasive alien species (IAS)
- Native to South-East Asia.
- First recorded in France in 2005.
- Predator of honeybees, wasps and other important pollinators.
- Can rapidly decimate entire beehives.
- Strong risk for rapid spread, causing significant economic and ecological damage.

Vespa velutina (Asian hornet)

- EU-level action seeks to prevent this spread by inter alia rapidly destroying its nests.
- If widely spread, appropriate management measures have to be taken
- When listing the species in 2016, it was established in France, Spain and Portugal, with casual observations in Belgium, Germany and Italy.
- Meanwhile, Belgium, Germany, the Netherlands and the UK are attempting to prevent its establishment through early detection and rapid eradication measures.
